

Russell's Survey Accepted—Next Step, Variance

ALLENDALE—George B. Russell and his "dream house" made news again last week when Borough Engineer Earle W. Bailey accepted a certified survey map of the Russell property in Ramsey and Allendale, and so reported to the Council last Thursday night.

Mr. Russell's representative, Charles Schultz, of Ramsey, was then advised by the council to appear before the Board of Adjustment on Monday night to apply for a variance to build on his property. He has a 75 foot frontage, which is O.K. according to Ramsey zoning, but part of the land is in the Allendale AA zone, calling for a 115 foot frontage.

Mr. Schultz and attorney Daniel Amster appeared before the board on Monday night and were told to come back at the March meeting—they should have made application five days in advance of the Monday night meeting.
