They came to Allendale by 1870. They lived at 475 Franklin Turnpike in the former Ackerman home. He was Ferry Master at the Pavonia Ferry (in connection with the Erie Railroad). Stephen Cable was listed in the 1885 New Jersey State Census, living in Hohokus Township. Living with him were Emma Cable, Clara Suviene (or Swiene?), John S. Berdell. Living in the same dwelling, but a separate family were: James A. Reading, Emma Reading, Robert B. Reading, and Howard Reading. The enumerator made a note in this census that Mr. Berdell was 97 years old and had not been out of his room in 9 years. In January 1890 Mrs. Cable was living at Harlem. In 1905 and 1910 she was living with her son Robert, and daughter-in-law, Catherine, probably in the Franklin Turnpike house.

He was living (at least in the summers) at Allendale by 1870. Robert B. Cable's home on East Allendale Avenue was sold about June 1884 to Mr. Asten. In June 1905 they were living in a house they owned, probably at 475 Franklin Turnpike, and living with them was his mother, Emma. He and Catherine were living in the Franklin Turnpike house in April 1910 at the time of the 1910 Federal Census. His mother, Emma, 96, a widow, was living with them. In January 1920 Robert B. Cable and his wife Catherine were living in a house they owned at 2 West End, in Ridgewood.

In 1870 he was Assistant Superintendent of the Susquehanna Division of the Erie. He had entered the service of the Erie in 1858 at 17 years of age, as a subordinate at the Bergen Tunnel. Mary Anthony Lathrop (his great, great niece) remembered that Robert B. Cable was an officer of the Erie Railroad and had a private railroad car, a symbol of the highest social importance and railroad prestige, as well as of immense practical importance. Private cars, now extinct except for collectors or exhibition purposes, could be attached to any railroad train going to any part of the country. Robert B. Cable wore a well-trimmed beard in the style of Edward VII of England, a frock coat, and a high, full-crowned bowler hat, straight on the sides, almost a stove pipe. He was also superintendent of the Denver and Rio Grand Railroad in 1883, but returned east in 1884. In June 1905 he was listed in the NJ State Census as a farmer.

He probably had no children; in his will, he mentioned various nieces and nephews.

Living with Henry and Mary at the time of the 1850 census was James Westerfield, 16, laborer. Henry may be the H. Christopher, 59, farmer, listed living alone in the 1860 census. At the time of the 1865 State Census, he is listed living in Hohokus Township (probably on or near West Allendale Avenue, Allendale). Listed immediately after him were Paul Van Houten, Jane Christopher, and Rebecca Van Houten (in this census, individuals are listed and there are no family relationships or grouping indicated). In the 1870 census, Jane is listed by herself, as a second family group living in the same dwelling house with the family of Smith Roswell.

In his will, dated 19 Nov 1868, probated 14 Dec 1868, he mentioned: (1) wife Jane; (2) Jacob J., John J., William, Ellen, wife of Garret Oblinus, Lavina, widow of James H. Young [children of deceased brother Joseph]; (3) Eliza, widow of John Harden, Ann, wife of Richard Ackerson [daus. of sister Gitty]; (4) Abraham Christopher, John Jacob Freeland, Smith Lions and John Lyons.

H. Christopher is shown on the 1861 Hopkins-Corey Map as the owner of two buildings on the west side of West Crescent Avenue immediately north of the railroad crossing. The "house of Henry Christopher" was mentioned in the description in a deed dated 10 Feb 1868 from Dennis Higgins and Mary J. his wife, of Paterson, to Charles H. O'Neill of Jersey City (for 168 W. Crescent Avenue).

On 30 Aug 1866, and easement or right-of-way was granted by Henry Christopher and Janet Christopher, his wife, to Charles H. Christopher (property at 250 West Crescent Avenue).
