Hercules Wendover was admitted Freeman of City of New York in 1760, when his occupation is given as grocer.

He may have moved his family to the vicinity of what is today Allendale in Bergen Co., N.J. during or after the Revolution (a brother and a brother's widow, are known to have removed to the area of Nine Partners, in Dutchess Co., N.Y. during the war). On the 1779 Erskine-DeWitt Map #26 (survey made by Capt. John W. Watkins, August 1778) "Windifords" is labelled just south of "Fells." This would likely be in the general area of the Franklin Turnpike about opposite the Chestnut Street intersection, on the east side of the road, in what became Allendale.

"Hercules Windaford" is listed in the 1780 Franklin Township Rateables as a householder, listed just after Cornelius Meyer and just before Hohan H. Rapp (this may, however, be Hercules Windover the son, who would be about age 20-21).
